

Mrithik 'couldn't have been more charged, driven,' working out for 'Fighter'

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) Bollywood star Hrithik Roshan has shared a video from his workout along with a note for his trainer and said that he could not have been more satisfied, charged and more at peace with the process than he is right now at this very moment.

The actor shared a video on Instagram, where he is doing some arm exercises in the gym. His trainer is heard saying: "You got this Hri. Come on, let's go, drive. Hrithik wrote: "My friend and trainer Kris Gethin journeys back to his home in the US tom. With still 10 weeks more to go for the completion of our 2nd phase, and 6 months of intense hard work already behind us, I could not have been more satisfied, more charged, more driven and more at peace with the process than I am right now at this very moment."

"And that process by the way has very little to do with muscle and more to do with the heart and mind. And for that, I could not thank you enough Kris. Thank you for the integrity toward your work and the knowledge and wisdom you bring to the gym. The world needs more men like you. That's for sure." "Frankly I don't know if I like working with you more for the transformations or more in hope that a little bit of that passion and energy rubs off on me. Be well my friend. Onwards and upwards. And I shall see you soon. @krisgethin," Hrithik added.

"Fighter" is being directed by Siddharth Anand. The film also stars Deepika Padukone and Anil Kapoor.

Kangana calls Gen-Z 'gajar muli', says they 'hate to commit, lazy to have sex'

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) Bollywood actress Kangana Ranaut has said that Gen Z can't afford to buy homes, hate to commit and are too lazy to even have sex. She even tagged them as 'gajar muli'. She wrote on her Instagram Stories on Friday: "Gen Z... HA HA their limbs and legs are like sticks, they spend most of their time on phones than actually interacting, observing or reading, they are incapable of consistency and seriously believe that they should simply be given the post of Boss who they don't respect because their Boss believes in discipline and came up hard way and GenZ only respect quick success."

She added: "GenZ loves starbucks and Avocado toast but can't afford to buy a home, they can rent branded clothes to impress on SM but hate to commit or marry, studies even show that they are too lazy to have sex as well, the woke worm GenZ are literally like gajar muli."

"ROLLING EYES AND SILLY SLANG GENZ is easy to influence manipulate even brain wash. well!! millennials are so much better, we rule!! how about some yoga, sports and exercise GenZ ...?" Kangana is currently shooting for Chandramukhi 2. Helmed by P.Vasu, it is the sequel to the Tamil horror comedy film Chandramukhi which features Rajinikanth and Jyothika.

Manushi to star in Varun Tej's aerial action drama based on IAF

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) Actress and former beauty queen Manushi Chhillar has been roped in to star in a Telugu-Hindi aerial action drama based on Indian Air Force (IAF) by Sony Pictures International Productions.

This untitled film is a patriotic, edge-of-the-seat entertainer and will showcase the indomitable spirit of our heroes on the frontlines and the challenges they face as they fight one of the biggest, fiercest aerial attacks that India has ever seen.

The untitled film (VT13) is produced by Sony Pictures International Productions and Sandeep Mudda from Renaissance Pictures and co-produced by Nandakumar Abhineni and God Bless Entertainment. Shakti Pratap Singh Hada, a seasoned ad-film maker, cinematographer, and VFX aficionado will be marking his directorial debut with this film. Written by Shakti Pratap Singh Hada, Aamir Khan and Siddharth Raj Kumar, the movie will be shot in Telugu and Hindi simultaneously.

Deepika joins Dwayne Johnson, Michael B. Jordan as presenter at Oscars 2023

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) Actress Deepika Padukone is one of the chosen few from the world who will be presenting an award at the Oscars 2023 ceremony.

Deepika joins the likes of Emily Blunt, Samuel L. Jackson, Dwayne Johnson, Michael B. Jordan, Janelle Monae, Zoe Saldana, Jennifer Connelly, Riz Ahmed, Melissa McCarthy among a few others to be part of this honour. The 95th Oscars will air live on ABC on Sunday, March 12, 2023.

A list of names was shared on The Academy's Instagram handle. The caption read: "Meet your first slate of presenters for the 95th Oscars. Tune into ABC to watch the Oscars LIVE on Sunday, March 12th at 8e/5p! #Oscars95."

On the work front, Deepika will next be seen in "Fighter" starring Hrithik Roshan and Anil Kapoor. The film is directed by Siddharth Anand. She will also be seen in "Project K", alongside Prabhas and Amitabh Bachchan.

Namik Paul's moustache kept falling off every time he tried delivering his dialogue

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) 'Qubool Hai' actor Namik Paul is currently seen playing the male lead in the show 'Lag Ja Gale' and shared how he enjoyed donning the look of a Sikh boy in one of the episodes. It was challenging for him to shoot with a fake beard and moustache. He said: "Our creative team experimented with multiple looks for this particular scene, but the Sardar look suited me best. Wearing the turban made me feel special and I did enjoy donning this avatar."

However, it was a bit challenging also and he faced problems while delivering the dialogue.

He said: "Whenever I was trying to deliver my dialogue, my moustache was falling off in between the shots. Being an actor, we go through loads of changes every day based on what the script demands, but I think that's what we enjoy, the constant change."

The actor from 'Ek Duje Ke Vaaste', 'Ek Deewana Tha', 'Kasautii Zindagii Kay', and many more, said that despite all the challenges he gave his best for the particular sequence. "Now, with my experience, I can say that it is not easy to act with a fake moustache and beard."

Ranbir opens up on his social media presence, says 'My personality is very boring'

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) Bollywood actor Ranbir Kapoor said that he prefers to stay away from social media or show less of his personal side so that his fans can relate to his character and are more interested in watching him on-screen.

He also found himself "boring" as a person and he felt that it is not possible for him to keep entertaining people all the time on social media.

He shared: "Actually there are a lot of reasons but I feel that these days, the mystery surrounding us as actors is gradually fading. People are watching us everywhere on screens while promoting or doing ads, and now they see us on social media, and that's why their will to watch us in theatres is reducing according to me. So, my vision was that I should show myself to the audience less so that they could better relate to my character and believe in it more."

Ranbir rose to fame with his film 'Wake Up Sid' and the audience saw him as a romantic hero in the film 'Ajab Prem Ki Ghajab Kahani', and later he came in a different avatar in the political drama 'Raajneeti'.

As an actor, he proved his talent in the movies such as 'Rockstar' and 'Barfi'. Recently, the actor celebrated the success of his film 'Brahmastra: Part One - Shiva', and these days he is busy promoting his film 'Tu Jhoothi Main Makkar' opposite Shraddha Kapoor.

Ranbir appeared on Kapil Sharma's comedy-based reality show to promote his film along with Shraddha and Anubhav Singh Bassi.

He talked about his film and the host also asked him about his preference for staying away from social media while most of the actors are so active on it.

He said that being on social media is a big responsibility where one needs to entertain people by making reels or posting pictures and it is not easy for him to do all this as he finds himself "boring". Although, he mentioned that he has a fake account on social media where he does follow his favourite people.

'Bholaa' will have 'razor-sharp fights in rough terrains', says Ajay Devgn

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) Actor-filmmaker Ajay Devgn is gearing up for the release of his upcoming film 'Bholaa' and has hinted that audiences are truly understandable. "I want people to see the action and feel the vibe before saying anything about it," said Ajay Devgn. "I want people to see the action and feel the vibe before saying anything about it," said Ajay Devgn. But he hints that the stunts, the chases, and the fights seen in Bholaa are going to be definition-changing. "The approach is raw; it is based in rural India and it has fights and chases that are razor-sharp and super-fast. The terrain is rough, the fighters are menacing. The whole idea is to give the action a newer dimension because I am partial to action." "I grew up doing innovative action under my father Veeru Devgn's supervision and I like the challenges around stunts."

Arjun Kapoor joins Malaika for her mom's birthday celebrations

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) Actor Arjun Kapoor joined his ladylove Malaika Arora for her mother Joyce Arora for her 70th birthday. Apart from Arjun, others who were seen at the celebration were Kareena Kapoor with husband Saif Ali Khan. Kareena shared a picture from Joyce's cake-cutting ceremony which also had Arjun joining the family in the frame.

Willem Dafoe made Emma Stone slap him 20 times while filming 'And'

Los Angeles, March 3 (IANS) Actress Emma Stone, who hasn't acted in a film since 2021, that will soon change thanks to two new collaborations with her 'The Favourite' director Yorgos Lanthimos.

The first is 'Poor Things', a Frankenstein-inspired story in which Stone plays a woman whose brain gets replaced by that of her unborn child, and the second is "And," plot details for which remain under wraps.

In both films, Stone stars opposite Willem Dafoe. But it was only 'And' that required Stone to slap Dafoe across the face 20 times.

In a new Dafoe profile published by The New York Times, it's revealed that Dafoe asked to be slapped repeatedly for a scene in which he does not even appear on camera.

Stone slaps Dafoe's character, who is off camera in the shot. But that didn't stop Dafoe from wanting to be present on set even though he wasn't required to be there.

"That's what you want from actors," Lanthimos said about Dafoe being on set even when he's not in the shot. "To want to be part of it in any way."

"There's this instinct to perform that many actors have - the 'look at me, look at me!' kind of performer," Stone added.

"He's the opposite of that. Maybe it's changed through the years. A lot of actors I bond with have been doing this for a long time, and you know they've gone from 'I' to 'We'."

'Poor Things' will most likely arrive in theatres ahead of 'And'.

Both films have the backing of Searchlight Pictures, which previously released Lanthimos' 'The Favourite' in 2018 to the tune of $95 million worldwide and 10 Academy Award nominations, including best picture.

Stone earned a nomination in the supporting actress category for her work on 'The Favourite', while Olivia Colman won the best actress prize.

Jenna Ortega speaks out against stereotype that Gen-Z are 'unintelligent'

Los Angeles, March 3 (IANS) Actress Jenna Ortega has shared her two cents on stereotypes about Gen Z. In a new interview, the breakout 'Wednesday' star spoke out against the stereotypes about teenagers that irk her.

The former Disney Channel star addressed the issue when making an appearance on 'Hot Ones' with host Sean Evans, reports aceshowbiz.com.

In the Thursday, March 2 episode, she was asked if there's a Gen Z trope or stereotype about teens in scripts that "gets under" her skin.

Unsurprisingly, Jenna was quick to call out some misconceptions about high schoolers. The 'Scream VI' actress noticed that teenagers are often depicted as "unintelligent," which does not reflect her generation because so much is "accessible to them on the Internet." She went on to insist, "I wish that they were given a bit more credit. We can be smart, sometimes!" After "a little over a decade" in Hollywood and acknowledging that she does "look a bit younger" than her peers, the 20-year-old actress also said she's over plotlines about "bratty" teens that "bad mouth" everything. Prior to this, Jenna talked about how she feels that "a lot of" Hollywood bosses still lack awareness of today's issues. Speaking to New York Magazine's The Cut, the "You" star addressed the challenges of meeting "expectations" of what a Latina actress should look like or the kind of roles she should be taking on. "It goes back to the 'your own worst critic' thing. Nothing anybody else could say is gonna bother me as much as something I could say," Jenna said. "When it comes to Latina expectations, it's so easy for me to brush those off because the people who are in positions of power right now or who have been in positions of power for so long in the industry, a lot of them are out of touch or just not necessarily familiar because they grew up in a very different time." "So I think that I personally have so much fun pushing the boundaries and doing all of the things that, you know, the Latina character 'shouldn't do."

Raj Babbar, Ratna Pathak Shah's 'Happy Family: Conditions Apply' to premiere on March 10

Mumbai, March 3 (IANS) Actors Raj Babbar, Ratna Pathak Shah, Raj Babbar, Atul Kulkarni, Ayesha Jhulka, Sanah Kapur, Meenal Sahu, Raunaq Kamdar, and Ahaan Saboo's family entertainer 'Happy Family: Conditions Apply' is all set to premiere on March 10. Created and directed by Aatish Kapadia and J.D. Majethia under the banner of Hats Off Productions, the family comedy has 10-episode series, which will premiere on Prime Video. It will drop on March 10 with four episodes, followed by two new episode releasing every Friday until March 31. The facetious trailer takes the audience into the world of the Dholakias, a family of four generations living under one roof, as they navigate the many ups and downs of their lives together.

We are confident that audiences across the globe will relate to the Dholakias and see a glimpse of their own families in them."
